In partnership,

CEO
Jeanne Bell

Board Chair

This course 'brings it all off right: "When I was called for an interview I knew I had to approach the keynote speaker for advice on how to use your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. 'Now I thank Byron for not doing your budget first. "I am told that Byron is going to get there."_SPELLING_ERROR"

SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science

In 2008, SACNAS (Society for Advancement of Chicanos and Native Americans in Science) accomplished two key goals: (1) the completion of a summer research program and (2) the convening of a National Conference on Science, Diversity, and Community. The "Summer Research Program" is a four-week intensive, research immersion course at select universities across the country. The National Conference, held in November 2008 in San Francisco, brought together nearly 2,000 participants from across the country. SACNAS continues to broaden its capacity building, now using with staff.""Seleison a theme for our report this year meant considering all of the economic anguish being felt by so many organizations and communities, as well as the sense of courage and creativity that goes into meeting the needs of communities in crisis. Our team has a unique opportunity to draw on the Dumont stories of individual heroism to help tell the story of nonprofit capacity building. SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science""}

""What's Coming Up at CompassPoint"

For more information and help in planning your nonprofit’s best year ever, please contact us at (415) 872-9372 or visit us on the Web at compasspoint.org.

SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science

In 2008, SACNAS (Society for Advancement of Chicanos and Native Americans in Science) accomplished two key goals: (1) the completion of a summer research program and (2) the convening of a National Conference on Science, Diversity, and Community. The "Summer Research Program" is a four-week intensive, research immersion course at select universities across the country. The National Conference, held in November 2008 in San Francisco, brought together nearly 2,000 participants from across the country. SACNAS continues to broaden its capacity building, now using with staff.""Seleison a theme for our report this year meant considering all of the economic anguish being felt by so many organizations and communities, as well as the sense of courage and creativity that goes into meeting the needs of communities in crisis. Our team has a unique opportunity to draw on the Dumont stories of individual heroism to help tell the story of nonprofit capacity building. SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science""}

""What's Coming Up at CompassPoint"

For more information and help in planning your nonprofit’s best year ever, please contact us at (415) 872-9372 or visit us on the Web at compasspoint.org.

SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science

In 2008, SACNAS (Society for Advancement of Chicanos and Native Americans in Science) accomplished two key goals: (1) the completion of a summer research program and (2) the convening of a National Conference on Science, Diversity, and Community. The "Summer Research Program" is a four-week intensive, research immersion course at select universities across the country. The National Conference, held in November 2008 in San Francisco, brought together nearly 2,000 participants from across the country. SACNAS continues to broaden its capacity building, now using with staff.""Seleison a theme for our report this year meant considering all of the economic anguish being felt by so many organizations and communities, as well as the sense of courage and creativity that goes into meeting the needs of communities in crisis. Our team has a unique opportunity to draw on the Dumont stories of individual heroism to help tell the story of nonprofit capacity building. SACNAS: Advancing Hispanics, Chicano, and Native Americans in Science""